

I would like to acknowledge my indebtedness and render my warmest thank to my supervisor, Prof. Nicola Manini, who made this work possible. Your friendly guidance and expert advice have been invaluable for me throughout all stages of this work. Thank you for all the advice, ideas, moral support and patience in guiding me through this project. Your worth of knowledge in the field of Physics of matter is inspiring. I have earned the greatest understanding of the research field during my PhD period.

A special thank goes to my co-supervisors, Professor Franco Biasioli and Professor Paolo Piseri, for providing me an opportunity to work in this interesting research project. Your guidance and support is exceptional throughout the research period. Thank you for creating various opportunities in the project and letting me work freely. I would like to express my heartfelt appreciation to Professor Paolo Piseri for arranging everything during my initial days in Milan. I also like to thank Professor Franco Biasioli for arranging my trips and stay at FEM, San Michelle. I would like to acknowledge the training provided by Julia Khomenko on PTR-MS sample preparation and calibration. I like to thank the staff and researchers of FEM whom I interacted.

I would also wish to express my gratitude to Professor for extended discussions and valuable suggestions which have contributed greatly to the improvement of the thesis.

The thesis has also benefited from comments and suggestions made by Dr. and Dr. who have read through the manuscript. I take this opportunity to thank them.

My thanks are extended to SSPTG group for stimulating discussions and helping me directly or indirectly during my years in the University. I would also like to express my thanks to administrative staff of Physics department, especially Andrea Zanzani for all the paper work and administrative support.

Further I would like to give special thanks to Dr. K.K. Panjaje, Dr. Anil Kumar, G. D. Behera and friends throughout my journey of research.

Last but not least, I would like to thank my family members for their unconditional love and support. Thank you for your constant encouragement and motivation. My daughter Ishanvi for your cutest smile!!!!!!
